THE Book Mark

By JANE VOILES

If you can't afford to travel to new scenes this summer by land, sea or air, do the next best thing and map out an itinerary with new books. From the MacMillan Company's Spring Catalogue, come many suggestions.

How about a trip through the New England States? You couldn't find a better guide anywhere than Jonathan Daniels whose new book—"A Southerner Discovers New England," will be out in April. Mr. Daniels is not interested in covering a lot of space in the shortest possible time. He is the rambling kind of traveler who asks questions. He stops to smell fish in the shore towns, to talk to the rich when he has the chance, to get lost in the slums. He wants to know why many of the mill towns are deserted and why the Connecticut farms "no longer nourish anything but writers and opera singers." Mr. Daniels doesn't see New England as a little segregated northeast corner in the United States—he sees it in relation and as a part of the whole country. He gives an honest picture and lets you draw your own conclusions.

And while you "are" in New England, why not read the new biography of Ethan Allan by Stewart Holbrook—"Holy Old Mackinaw" Holbrook, whose writing is always so full of zest and gusto that he can make a broomstick look alive. In "Ethan Allan," that "Indomitable, hell-roaring swashbuckler" Holbrook finds a congenial subject. Here you will get history and biography and some good fun. You can depend upon it that Holbrook does a thorough job of research.

If you want to see China, see it through the shrewd and humorous eyes of Edna Lee Brooker in "News is My Job." Miss Brooker isn't writing from a desk in a newspaper office. She has been behind the lines in China where her special job was to report on "the conditions of refugees from the Japanese invasion." In fact she has helped the refugees to escape, first from Canton and later from Hankow. Since gathering news is her job, she has traveled something like 50,000 miles through China. She tells what it is like to live in the Chinese palace of a powerful war lord and how life goes on in a little village at the foot of the great wall of China. She has visited tribes in the wild mountains of Fukien about whom little is known and she has traveled far up the Yangtze river. As the book is illustrated with photographs and maps your trip takes on more significance.

For an entirely different scene, take a journey with Stefansson into the Arctic region. His book "Ultima Thule—Further Mysteries of the Arctic," will be out in May.

If you prefer to spend your time with people, seeing into their minds, you can visit with three doctors. No, doctors haven't written themselves out yet and you won't be sorry about it as the three new "doctor books" are every bit as good reading as any of their forerunners.

"Berkeley Moynihan, Surgeon," by Donald Bateman is an account of the life of the famous English surgeon who died four years ago. As a man who had achieved amazing surgical skill, his reputation was world wide. Dr. Bateman gives a memorable picture of Lord Moynihan who began life in modest circumstances and managed to climb to the heights of his profession, at the same time keeping the faith and love of both colleagues and patients.

For contrast, there is "Frontier Doctor" by Dr. Uring C. Coe. Dr. Coe practiced in a raw, boom town in central Oregon where he did everything from delivering babies to pulling teeth and treating typhoid cases. Dr. Coe knew the people of the little town intimately: the prim ladies and the sporting gals, the rustlers and sheep herders and he makes them live for his readers.

No Driving License Nets Jail Term For Miner

AUBURN — George Kangas, El Dorado County miner, was returned to the Placer county jail to serve a term of 150 days in lieu of a $300 fine imposed by Justice of the Peace Pearl for driving an automobile after his license had been suspended. Kangas pleaded guilty. Officials stated the license was revoked by Police Judge C. F. Richter of Auburn several weeks ago, following a plea of guilty to a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated.

3-MILE SNOW BARRIER BLOCKS THROUGH TRAVEL TO TAHOE

Two Crews Working In 24-Hour Shifts To Clear Route For Weekend; Mechanical Troubles Retard Progress Of Rotary Plows

Perhaps you will be able to drive to Lake Valley via the Echo Summit this weekend, and perhaps you won't.

Friday morning there remained three miles of snow from four to five feet deep in places separating the two rotary plows whose crews are working on twenty-four-hour shifts to clear the route for travel.

The eastbound plow was reported opposite the entrance to Camp Florin early Friday morning, and the west bound plow was reported above Phillips Station, approximately a thousand feet west of Pierce's Camp.

Mechanical troubles had interfered with their progress during the past twenty-four hours and the state Division of Highways reported from its office at Smith Flat that in view of the possibility of additional "heavy going," it is impossible to say at this time at what hour the route will be open to travel.

Snow sports fans may be interested in the assurance that it is expected to have a two-way route cleared Saturday as far as Camp Florin.

But to say that the road will be open Saturday noon or Saturday night, was something the staff could not do.

It was pointed out that opening of the road has been ordered by March 16th by the Director of Public Works, and that the Division of Highways is working toward that end—twenty-four hours a day.

Legion Assists Schools Week

State Commander Pledges Fullest Co-Operation In 21st Annual Observance

SAN FRANCISCO — The fullest cooperation of the California department of the American Legion will be given to the twenty-first annual observance of Public Schools Week, beginning April 22, according to a statement made public here today by William S. Dunn, state commander of the Legion.

After briefly referring to the birth of the Legion in Paris twenty-two years ago and the principles it espoused, Dunn's statement continued: "Among those early day programs was one concerned with the right and proper education of the youth of America, the need for which was disclosed so vividly in the formation of our country's defense forces. California educators, fraternal bodies, service clubs and patriotic citizens likewise joined forces with this movement to improve and popularize the public schools of the State."

"As a result of those efforts a Public Schools Week was announced to be observed during the latter part of April, twenty-one years ago. Accordingly, in celebrating its own coming of age, the American Legion throughout California earnestly urges all citizens to assist their respective school officials in the proper observance of this particular education period, April 22-27."

"The happy and prosperous future of our nation depends upon the good citizenship of its people. The burden and responsibility for making good citizens rest chiefly upon the schools. It is ours to foster, promote and safeguard their welfare."

The California Congress of Parents and Teachers has likewise pledged its full cooperation to the activities of the week.

$400,000 SAVED STATE FARMERS

2,300 Shared In Money Recoveries During Year By Marketing Bureau

SACRAMENTO — Twenty three hundred California farmers shared in money recoveries in excess of $400,000 secured for them by the Bureau of Market Enforcement, State Department of Agriculture, during the year 1939, according to an official annual report made to State Director of Agriculture Wm. B. Parker, by C. J. Marey, chief enforcement officer.

During the year the bureau handled a record number of complaint matters, 1446, held 219 hearings, and initiated 83 criminal prosecutions against law violators. Under the various laws enforced, over 10,000 persons or firms were licensed and regulated.

Bureau activities included the enforcement of the Produce Dealers Act, Processors Law, the Milk Control Law, California Marketing Agreement Act, Agricultural Protective Act and other related marketing statutes.

No charges or fees are assessed for filing complaints, and no deductions are made from amounts recovered for claimants.

FARM LEADERS MET IN CONFERENCE ON THURSDAY

The occasion of the visit to Placerville of the Agricultural Conservation Association committee for the state on Thursday resulted in a day-long conference of representatives of county farm organizations in six counties, which was held at Hotel Raffles.

The meeting opened at ten o'clock in the morning under the chairmanship of Dave Davidson, chairman of the state committee, and continued through the afternoon with George H. Volz, county chairman, and L. R. Enzler, of the county committee, sharing as chairmen of the meeting.

In the evening there was a dinner attended by approximately thirty to which farmers had personally invited business men guests in the interest of an exchange of ideas intended to promote a better understanding of their respective problems.

Sharing in the doings of the day with El Dorado County farmers were representatives of the agricultural of Amador, Alpine, Calaveras, Tuolumne and Mariposa counties.

BRIDGE REVENUES GAIN DESPITE DECLINE IN TARIFFS

SAN FRANCISCO, (UP)—The American Toll Bridge Co., operators of Carquinez and Antioch bridges, in a preliminary report today noted a net profit of $525,546 during 1939 after all charges, including depreciation, income taxes, interest and amortization. This compared with a net profit of $396,137 for 1938.

Traffic over the Carquinez bridge in 1939 numbered 2,036,996 vehicles, compared with 1,759,259 in 1938, and over the Antioch bridge 167,149 last year against 142,715 the previous year. Revenue increased, in the case of Carquinez, from $1,202,952 to $1,335,320 while the average tariff was dropping from 68.39 cents to 65.55 cents. In the case of Antioch bridge, revenue was up to $128,545 from $126,095, while average tariff was cut from 88.36 cents to 76.97 cents.

S. M. Speers was a visitor Thursday at San Francisco. Sam is taking advantage of the early spring season to take a vacation from his duties as work superintendent at Snowline CCC Camp.

Ranger M. D. Morris was in the Fair Oaks section Friday morning.

DESPITE INCREASED INCOME, STATE IS RUNNING BEHIND

General Fund Cash Deficiency Has Doubled In Past Year While Revenues For 8-Month Period Run Six Million More Than In 1939

SACRAMENTO.—State Controller Harry B. Riley announced today that the state of California, despite increased revenue, has more than doubled its general fund cash deficiency in the past year.

The cash deficiency stood at $68,094,925 on February 29 last, the end of the first eight months of the fiscal year, 1939-40, as compared with a deficiency of $30,711,386 on February 29 of last year, Riley said, an increase of $37,383,539.

Registered warrants outstanding totaled $79,370,217 at the end of the first eight months this fiscal year, an increase of $46,953,376 over the $32,416,841 figure of February 28, 1939.

This unbalanced condition of state finances occurred despite the fact that revenue for the first eight-month period just ended was $6,368,540 greater than for the corresponding period last year. Revenue for the period ended last February 29 totaled $118,068,743 as compared with $111,690,203 in the first eight months of 1938-39.

Net expenditures for the eight-month period this year were $130,567,754 as compared with $116,599,790 for the like period a year ago, an increase of $13,967,964, Riley said.

Costs of unemployment relief this year jumped $8,421,477 above those of last year. Expenditures for the United Construction program were $2,840,805 greater, and payment of bond interest and redemption increased $2,350,545. High school expenditures were up $1,036,659. Other increased costs were: interest on registered warrants, $446,000. (Continued on Page Four)

New Stockmen's Head Coming

Ted Chamberlain Accepts Appointment To Attend Meeting On April 6th

The annual meeting of the Amador-El Dorado Livestock Association, to be held in Placerville at the Shakespeare clubhouse on Saturday, April 6, will afford association members the opportunity to make the acquaintance of their new state president, Ted Chamberlain.

Mr. Chamberlain's acceptance of an invitation to attend and address the meeting was received this week by the committee.

The association will also honor Lorin Bambers, of Clements, for many years a member of the bi-county group, who at the recent annual meeting of the California Cattlemen's Association, was elected a vice-president.

The Amador-El Dorado Livestock Association is a member of the California Cattlemen's Association. John Curry, state association secretary, is another whose acceptance of a place on the program was recently received.

Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Longhurst and the former's sister, Mrs. Dee Narkaus, and Clyde Longhurst, were in San Francisco Wednesday visiting with their brother and father, Lester, who is a patient at the Fort Miles Veteran's Hospital. Clyde stayed over to return to Placerville Sunday with his mother, who has been in the city for several weeks, while the others came home Wednesday night.

County Has Only Slate Mine In Northern Part Of State

Sacramento papers give El Dorado County added cause for boasting of its scenic, recreational, agricultural and industrial achievements by claiming for us the only slate mine in the northern part of the state—the plant of the Pacific Minerals Co., Ltd., at Chili Bar.

For twelve years the report says, slate has been taken from the mountainside and there still are extensive slate bodies.

The material mined is used mostly for roofing. It is cut up into slate shingles, and is ground into granules to be used as a base on certain types of roofs, and for a number of other roofing purposes. Much of it is shipped out in bulk. A recent development is the cutting of the slate for use as stepping stones in yards.

The slate is mined out of several tunnels and drifts measuring as high and as wide as eighteen

Defies Census

Republican Daniel A. Reed, New York representative, declares he will risk jail rather than answer "snooping" questions by census takers. He objects particularly to proposed questions on value of property, mortgages, interest rate and other queries on income, and declares he is confident parts of the census are unconstitutional.

CENSUS DEBATE IRKS F.D.R.

President, Through His Secretary Scores Stand Of "Anonymous" Solon

WASHINGTON, (UP)—President Roosevelt through his Secretary today attacked Sen. Charles W. Tobey, R., N. H., as the first U. S. Senator ever openly to advise the American people to violate the law.

Secretary Stephen T. Early, in conveying Mr. Roosevelt's views did not mention Tobey by name.

But the criticism of an "anonymous" senator who advised citizens not to answer census questions was plainly directed at Tobey, who has led the senate fight to eliminate from the census questions on personal income.

Mr. Roosevelt had denounced the census controversy as an "obvious political move."

The President's attack followed action by Secretary of Commerce Harry L. Hopkins to insure that the census information would be allowed to place their income figure on an unsigned blank for mailing in a sealed envelope direct to the census bureau.

Early acted as Mr. Roosevelt's spokesman today when the President cancelled his press conference because of a cold.

NATIONAL A. A. U. HOOP TOURNAMENT OPENS ON SUNDAY

DENVER, (UP)—More than 50 teams from 26 states were entered today in the National A. A. U. basketball tournament which starts here Sunday and officials predicted all entry records would be broken.

Four teams from Colorado, Oklahoma, California and Oregon were among pre-tournament favorites. They were Denver's Nuggets, defending champions; Phillips Oilers, of Bartlesville, Okla.; Golden State Creamery of Oakland, and the Rubenstein's of Eugene, Ore.

Seeded entries included San Francisco Olympic Club and San Francisco State College.

Dog In House Drives Man To Suicide

LOS ANGELES, (UP)—Thomas Huling, 65, shot himself to death in the garage of his home last night, police reported. Beside his body officers found the following note: "Mama: I cannot live in the house with a dog, so goodbye. May God bless you. Papa."

Police said the man's wife told them a neighbor had given her a dog last night and she had taken it home.

Playing Second Fiddle To A Spook "Too Much"

HOLLYWOOD, (UP)—Dr. William A. Boyce, eye specialist, today filed suit for divorce naming as "correspondent" a member of the spirit world, one "Sho Sha."

Dr. Boyce maintained his wife joined a cult and regarded "Sho Sha" as a superman who allegedly was her soul mate with whom she would travel through eternity.

Dr. Boyce said playing second fiddle to the spirit superman was "just too much."

Forest Supervisor Edwin F. Smith was at the Sacramento Valley Council of the state Chamber of Commerce.

Rabies Analysis Inconclusive

Dog Of Alex Revaz, Jr., May Or May Not Have Had Infection, Report

A report received Friday morning at city hall from the state laboratories says that a rabies analysis of the head of a dog owned by Alex Revaz, Jr., gave a result which was "inconclusive."

The report explains that the animal may not have had rabies, or that it may have had rabies and was killed while the infection was in a stage so advanced that analysis failed to detect the infection.

The report also contained a note that if dogs have been bitten by animals having rabies, they should be killed immediately to prevent the spread of the infection.

The Revaz dog had been held under observation by city officials and the symptoms of rabies which were apparent were so pronounced that the owner agreed to asphyxiation of the pet. It had been playing or fighting with the dog of the Willis Petrie family, which subsequently died of rabies, but the Revaz dog had not bitten any person and was not known to have bitten any other dog.

Caroline Jay and Garret Cassidy love each other but because Garret is a shiftless poolroom loafer, Caroline's mother has forbidden her to see him. Jay, superintendent of the Avon Home for the Aged, wants Caroline to encourage the wealthy Henry Avon. Caroline, however, manages to meet Garret secretly one afternoon and they go for a drive. At the Heidelberg Inn, and suddenly decide to get married. They plan to keep the marriage a secret until Garret gets a job. Caroline will return home after the ceremony keep a date that evening with Henry Avon. Then meet Garret at midnight. They do not know as they get a license and then are married by a justice of the peace that old Pop Whistler one of the Avon Home residents has seen them at the inn, has overheard their conversation and has started back to the Home to tell Mrs. Jay.

CHAPTER XII

AS Caroline and Garret drove homeward, Garret said, "If I had money enough we'd keep on driving and never come back."

Caroline didn't answer. Even if Garret had a fortune in his pocket she could not bear the thought of driving away without seeing her mother. She realized it was going to hurt a great deal to keep this secret from her. But some day, she would go into her arms and tell her everything—ask her forgiveness.

It would be hard though to make her understand her love for a man who was so utterly different from the one Mrs. Jay would have chosen. Her mother having worked hard all her life had a fine contempt for a man who had never really worked.

Garret put an arm around her and drew her closer to him.

"I hate to think that every mile brings you closer to home," he murmured. "Let's forget everything and keep on going for this one day."

Caroline nodded. "That's what I'd like to do. Mother would never forgive me if I broke a date with Henry Avon."

"But you'll have to break them from now on!" Garret said stormily.

"Of course, darling, but we must do nothing today that will make Mother suspicious. I cannot hurt her—yet."

THE Heidelberg Inn came into view.

"I'll always love that place," Caroline whispered. "We'll come back on our golden wedding day."

"Yes," Garret agreed, "and I'll have the driveway strewn with roses for you."

They drove slowly by the inn, and then, instead of continuing on the main highway, Garret took the old road through the ravine.

"I haven't really kissed my bride yet," he told her.

He stopped the car and enfolded her in his arms.

Then, they drove on, slowly, his arm still around her. His eyes left

Pave C. Lewis who worked in the hospital of which Dr. Hertzler of "The Horse and Buggy Doctor" was the head. Although Doctor Lewis is a practitioner of medicine in her own right, she writes this book from the angle of the doctor's wife. A small town in Iowa is the setting "where the president of the bank hoes potatoes barefoot in his backyard, where 'Central' is practically Secretary of State, and where farmers consider eight o'clock as the middle of the forenoon."

After all, there are people who travel and who return home with almost nothing except complaints about sleeping accommodations and the weather. From the above five books, one will come away with fresh horizons.

Calvary—Triumph Through Sacrifice

HIGHLIGHTS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON 3-48

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for March 17 is Matthew 26:27-27:56, the Golden Text being Isaiah 53:3, "He was despised, and rejected of men; a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief.")

AFTER JUDAS' betrayal of Jesus in Gethsemane, the Lord was bound and taken first to Annas, the high priest, Caiaphas' father-in-law. There is no account in the gospels of what transpired there. Then He was taken to Caiaphas. This man was head of the Sanhedrin, the highest court in Israel, composed of 70 Jewish men, all over 40 years of age, all scholars in their attainments and of unblemished reputation.

These men were resolved that Christ should die, but they made a semblance of trying Him, producing false witnesses, one of whom said Jesus had said, "I am able to destroy the temple of God, and to build it in three days," a thing Jesus had not said.

The high priest asked Jesus if this were true and He held His peace, so Caiaphas asked Him, "I adjure thee, by the Living God, that thou tell us whether thou be the Christ, the Son of God." Jesus answered, "Thou hast said: nevertheless, I say unto you, Hereafter shall ye see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven."

Guilt of Death
Then the high priest rent his clothes, saying, "He hath spoken blasphemy; what further need have we of witnesses? behold, ye have heard His blasphemy." The others answered, "He is guilty of death." These men then spit in His face and buffeted Him, the story says, others smiting Him with palms of their hands. It was at this time that someone asked Peter if he was not one of Christ's companions and he denied it. Three times was he asked this question, and thrice did he deny his Lord, and at the third denial the cock crowed as Jesus had said.

The next morning they took the Master to Pontius Pilate, the governor, because only he could condemn to death. In the meantime, Judas had repented of his betrayal of his Lord. He had not spent the 30 pieces of silver, so he took them to the high priests and offered them back, saying, "I have sinned in that I have betrayed the innocent blood." But they answered, "What is that to us?" and refused to take it. Judas thereupon threw the money down and went out and hanged himself. The priests did not know what to do with this blood money, and finally used it to buy a "potter's field"—a place where the very poor could be buried. To this day the burial place of the outcast is called "potter's field."

Pilate questioned Jesus, and at last admitted that he could find no fault with Him. At the feast of the passover, it was the custom for the governor to release a prisoner. Now there was a prisoner named Barabbas, a criminal, and Pilate asked the people if they wanted Jesus released or Barabbas, for he found Jesus innocent of any crime, and wanted to release Him, but feared to anger the people. They cared nothing for Barabbas, and demanded that Jesus be crucified.

Pilate's Wife Has Dream

Pilate's wife sent word to him that she should have nothing to do with condemning Jesus, as He was righteous, as she had been warned in a dream. But even with this warning, Pilate had not the courage to release Him. All he did was to publicly wash his hands to signify that he would have nothing to do with the death of this innocent person. "I am innocent of the blood of this just person, see to it," he said, and the multitude roared, "His blood be on us, and on our children."

So Jesus was led away and beaten. The soldiers of the governor took His clothes away and mockingly dressed Him in a scarlet robe, platted a crown of thorns which they put on His head, and a reed in His right hand; bowing before Him in derision, they cried, "Hail, King of the Jews," and they beat Him and otherwise abused our Lord. Taking away the scarlet robe, they gave Him His own clothes and led Him away to be crucified.

It is almost more than we can bear to think of these last hours of Jesus, the cruelty which He bore patiently for our sakes, the agony of that dreadful death which He suffered as a man. His disciples all had forsaken Him; when He asked for water they gave Him vinegar mingled with gall. Over His head on the cross was nailed the legend, "This is Jesus the King of the Jews," in mockery, of course. They taunted Him for not saving Himself, but after His death, when the earth grew dark and there was an earthquake, they became afraid and ran away, for they thought "Truly this was the Son of God."

None of the apostles seems to have been present at the crucifixion, but Jesus' mother, Mary Magdalen and Mary, mother of James and Joseph, were there, grieving, and they were the first at the tomb in the morning, for the evening after Jesus' death a rich man, named Joseph, took the body, wrapped it in clean linen, and put it in his own newly-made tomb, rolling a rock against the opening.

After being ill three months Richard Buchler passed away Saturday, March 9, 1940, age 82 years. Mr. Buchler was born in Placerville in September, 1859. When about two years old his parents moved to the Georgetown section and he had lived here ever since with the exception of a short time he lived at Pacific Grove, and when he lived at near Georgia Slide, when he worked in those mines. He was married to Miss Lillian Patrick in Reno, Nev. Nov. 1, 1885, and brought his bride to the home he had just built here, and in which he passed away. Eight children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Buchler, five have preceded Mrs. Buchler in death, and the three Mrs. Elizabeth Murdoch, Mrs. Ethel Bredlove and George are left with the mother to mourn the loss of a loving husband and father. Mr. Buchler joined the I. O. O. F. in 1890 and later joined the Rebekah lodge. When Mr. Buchler was a young man he belonged to the fife and drum corps, which led all processions of that time. In the 80's he was one of the violin players in a string orchestra, the others were Johnnie Wales, P. F. Morgan, C. D. Hotchkiss (who have passed to the great beyond) and C. F. Irish and Frank H. Irish. "Rich" as everyone knew him, was never too tired to take his "fiddle" and go anywhere any place to play for the young folks to dance. In those days it was the waltz, polka and quadrille. He was known for his genial and happy disposition with always a smile and a reminiscence of past days.

He has passed thru' the sunset gateway to the new life's gladness. To be no longer old. To him the days are ended. Of earthly woes and ills— He has passed to the morning sunshine That dwells on the heavenly hills.

A short program as follows, was given: Song by Georgia Gardner, "Trees," (Joyce Kilmer), each had a verse on the subject. The thoughts of everyone was expressed in "Sentinels."

I'm sure all will continue well. While faithful trees stand sentinel. They are so calm, straight and tall. They seem to have no fear at all. They never boast, but simply keep their watch, though we may wake or sleep.

I've seen them stand in driving rain, And never once did they complain. I've seen them stand in the blast of wind, But stand straight when it blows. Faithful they are 'till 'till they're gone. So straight, so kindly and so strong.

Fisk are putting the machine in order to work North Irish Creek on the Hackomiller land owned by Los Angeles parties, McVay and George Morgan, the Van De Water and Davenport land, and then east on the Ollie Demuth land. There is quite a lot of available doodlebug land in the district.

The Big Four at the north end of the Kelsey District is being prospected and having development work done by Russell J. Wilson who has an option on the property. A power line has been extended to the property and thence northwest through Mrs. Frazier's mining ground to the Fred Veerkamp mine.

The Alhambra Mine company is preparing to sink the shaft to the five hundred foot level. The mill continues to run from ore in the upper levels.

The Kelsey Mine is running a drift and crosscuts from the shaft recently developed.

The Big Sandy is drawing ore from two shafts on the property.

The Amazon and Red Hill Mines have been leased and optioned to a Nebraska company who are now employing quite a crew of men laying foundations for a large mill near the highway opposite the Demuth property, which will serve the two mines.

All the burned over area north of Kelsey is being cleaned by the CCC boys under supervision of Frank McCaslin—all young pines are cut down and sawed into four-foot lengths to be given to the property owners of the land so cleared. All limbs and trash are laid in windrows along the hillsides to prevent soil erosion.

Another crew of CCC boys is now clearing the Ponderosa Way of underbrush and shrubbery.

Grover Wilkinson is home from the Sanatorium in excellent health and spirits even though suffering the loss of his right eye through an unusual accident. He was chopping small manzanita branches when a piece of the branch rebounded from the chopping block striking his eye with force enough to puncture his eyeball. A short time ago he lost the thumb of his left hand while mining near Garden Valley.

Elmer Leonard is home from the hospital recovering from a fractured jaw, also an accident from a piece of manzanita which rebounded and struck his jaw, loosening teeth and fracturing the jaw which became infected through his not knowing the seriousness of the injury.

AND HOUSEHOLD HINTS

— BY —
JUNE CHEMNITZ

Lamb is no longer considered a seasonal meat—especially since the improved feeding and marketing methods supply our markets during every month in the year. However I do think it is still considered one of the delicacies of spring and the wise homemaker has come to depend more and more upon this fine flavored meat to add not only variety but charm to her menus. The leg of course is the most satisfactory cut especially if you are planning a company dinner, but don't forget there are many other delicious cuts and much more economical than the leg. All cuts of spring lamb are tender and can be roasted, stewed, braised or broiled. Lamb will never have that strong taste, often complained of, if you make sure that your butcher removes all of the fat or outside skin, either from a roast, chops or lamb for stewing. The strong taste comes only from the skin. Try rubbing your next lamb roast with lemon juice and see what a nice taste it gives. May I suggest the following way for roasting lamb. After washing, dry thoroughly and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Then sift flour all over it. Some of the flour will go into the baking pan, but that will brown nicely and improve the color as well as the flavor of your gravy. If you desire the flavor of garlic, make five or six holes in the meat and push dry pieces of garlic into each hole. Or if you do not care for garlic slice a small onion across the top. Place your roast in a 450 degree oven with the rounded side of the meat up. After 30 minutes reduce the heat to 325 for balance of time, allowing about 25 minutes per pound. Baste every 15 minutes with hot water. If you will turn the roast over occasionally when it becomes a rich brown color, it will not only color the gravy but make the roast more juicy and tender. When your roast is ready to serve you will have plenty of rich brown gravy already made. If you desire potatoes, place around roast about one hour before meat is done, turn once during the baking time.

Cushion Style Lamb Roast With Pineapple Dressing

Have the bones removed from a shoulder of lamb. Sew on two sides to make a pocket. Wipe with a damp cloth. Season. Fill the cavity with the following pineapple dressing: 2 tablespoons minced onion, 2 tablespoons melted butter, 2 cups stale bread crumbs, 1 No. 2 can crushed pineapple, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, pinch sage. Salt and pepper to taste. Sauté onion in melted butter until tender. Add bread crumbs and onion slightly then add drained pineapple, parsley and seasoning. Fill the cavity in the roast. Sew up the opening, roast in a slow oven (300 degrees F.) allowing 25 to 30 minutes per pound.

Mothers Lamb Stew

Two pounds flank and shoulder, one pound each. One small white onion. One third cup chopped celery. One pound new potatoes. One pound peas. Three fourths cup diced carrots. One teaspoon minced parsley. Place lamb in kettle cover with boiling water. Add onion parsley and celery. Cook slowly for one hour. Add new potatoes, cook for one half hour. Add peas and carrots. Thicken gravy with one tablespoon flour rubbed into one tablespoon butter. Salt and pepper to taste. Before serving sprinkle with one teaspoon finely chopped parsley. While we are on the subject of lamb—ways if possible serve either mint sauce or jelly. If you like mint here is a delicious sauce recipe:

MINT SAUCE: Wash mint; remove all the leaves from the stems and throw away the stems Cut up the leaves as fine as possible, making one fourth cup. Dissolve one tablespoon powdered sugar in one half cup malt vinegar. Pour this over the mint leaves. Set where it will keep warm but not hot. Allow it to infuse for half an hour. If vinegar is too strong dilute with water.

Each day now when we go marketing we see the price of asparagus dropping. While the price is still within reach of all try a casserole dish combining noodles with asparagus. Its really a rousing dish—easy to prepare—and economical as well.

Egg Noodles and Asparagus

One half pound egg noodles, one pound asparagus, three tablespoons butter, three tablespoons flour, one and one half cups milk, one teaspoon salt, one fourth teaspoon of paprika, one half cup bread crumbs, one hard cooked egg sliced. Cook noodles until tender, and drain. Cook asparagus, and drain also—make a white sauce of the butter, flour, milk and seasonings. Cut asparagus in small pieces, alternate with noodle until casserole is full. Add hard boiled egg to white sauce and pour over all. Cover top with bread crumbs and garnish top with three or four stalks of cooked asparagus. Bake in a 325 degree oven for 20 minutes.

Barbecued Ham Slices With Brown Rice

Sauce: 2 tablespoons butter, one half cup salad dressing, one half cup vinegar, one half cup catsup, two teaspoons chili powder, one teaspoon paprika, one fourth teaspoon salt. Mix saute ingredients and boil together until well thickened. Brush one side of ham slices with sauce and place on broiler rack 3 inches under heat (Moderate oven) turn, brush other side with sauce and continue broiling until done, one quarter inch slices broil 3 minutes, one quarter inch slices broil five to six minutes.

BROWN RICE—One small onion, one clove garlic, one small green pepper. Chop fine and saute in butter until golden brown. Add two cups raw brown rice, cook for about two minutes, add two cups chicken broth or any liquid broth can be made by using bouillon cubes. Keep stirring the rice as it will burn easily. As the rice absorbs the liquid add another cup. Add one half teaspoon Saffron, a little paprika. Cook slowly for nearly an hour.

About one half hour before rice is done add one cup chopped chicken giblets and one small cup fresh mushrooms, which have been sauteed in butter. Canned mushrooms be used instead of fresh ones. One tablespoon of any good table wine (white) may be added at last. Salt and pepper to taste.

Refrigerator Fruit Cake

Snip 1/4 pound pitted dates, 1/4 pound figs and 3-4 pound marshmallows into small pieces with the scissors. (Dip scissors now and then in confectioner's sugar when they get sticky.) Add 1 pound chopped walnuts, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon orange rind, and a three-ounce package candied cherries or mixed fruit peel. Mix in 1 1/2 cups rolled graham crackers or vanilla wafer crumbs. Then work in 1 cup heavy cream, whipped. Line a deep round pan with wax paper. Shape mixture into a round cake. Coat with 1/4 cup more crumbs. Press firmly into cake pan. Cover with waxed paper. Chill overnight in refrigerator. Turn out. Remove paper. Slice at table. Serve with foamy sauce or whipped cream. Serves 12.

Egg Whites

Never worry about left-over egg whites when you are doing a lot of cooking. Keep them in a covered jar in your refrigerator. If it is hard to figure out just how many egg whites you've added to the jar from time to time, just remember that one egg white measures about one eighth of a cup and calculate the number called for in your recipes accordingly.

EGG YOLKS—Keep egg yolks in the refrigerator in a covered container to keep them from becoming dry and unusable. I also sometimes pour salad oil over the top.

Fashion Tips

News—definitely the big news in Spring coat fashions is "big pockets." And the bigger they are, the smarter, for these huge "cash and carry" pockets are placed prominently on the hip lines of fitted coats and often low at each side of swaggy models. Anyway they are desirable.

Facts: Did You Know?

That if granulated sugar is sifted over the meringue of a pie before it is browned, it not only gives it a pretty crust but makes the pie easy to cut.

'Tis "Boxty" and Coffee

For St. Patrick's Morn

Boxty on the griddle, boxty in the pan—if ye can't make good boxty then ye'll never get your man! That's the Irish jingle about potato pancakes on St. Patrick's morning—but the poet should have added that if "ye can't make good coffee ye won't be after holding your man when you get him!"

Use shamrock place cards and put a bit of green on the table—then be sure the coffee's hot as well as the Boxty; add sausages, raisin bread toast (with gooseberry jam) and you'll be having the real morning atmosphere of old Erin. Make the coffee in the American manner (that means strong enough with one heaping tablespoon of coffee to each measuring cup of water) then follow this "boxty" road to Dublin's favorite breakfast:

Boxty Pancakes
1 cup mashed potatoes (2 1/2 cups) 1 cup sifted flour
1 cup grated raw 1/4 teasp. soda
potatoes (about) 1/2 cup buttermilk
Melted shortening

Boil and peel potatoes; mash well and measure. Combine with grated raw potatoes. Sift together flour, baking soda and salt. Mix with potato mixture. Add enough buttermilk to make the batter soft enough to drop from spoon. Grease hot griddle; drop batter by spoonfuls on griddle; cook slowly and allow to brown and raise; turn and brown other side. Be sure that pancakes are cooked through. Serve hot with butter. Makes 12 large pancakes. 6 servings
